2022 Best Practices in Hiring in the New World Order

Docketing professionals have a unique skill set, come from various other fields, and those skill sets have changed since the pandemic. Join your colleagues to discuss what qualities are now needed for remote or hybrid work, how you identify best hiring practices, and if remote work as an option in order to hire the best docketing candidates for your department and firm.

Do you have specific IT requirements regarding remote work, equipment use, disaster recovery protocols and cyber security?

What would make an ideal candidate? Is remote working experience now a requirement?

What does remote mean?

What do you consider best practices for remote work?
